PARLOR, SHOWING OIL PAINTING OF BISHOP BROOKS PRESENTED BY SOME OF HIS FRIENDS TO THE UNION.

GENERAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNMENT.

The Board of Government takes pleasure in presenting to the members, to interested friends, and to the public a report of the Union's work for the fifty-eighth year, ending March 31, 1909.

The chief aim of the officers of the society is to make the Rooms, in all that the word implies, a home for young men; to offer every possible attraction in the shape of books, papers, games, pleasant companions, evening classes, public religious services, lectures, entertainments, and other means of instruction and recreation.

AIMS AND OBJECTS.

Boarding and lodging house lists are provided. An active employment department assists those applying, to find work. Direction is given those desiring to connect themselves with churches. The gymnasium affords opportunity for physical development under the competent instruction and guidance of its medical director and officers. Committees visit the sick in their homes and lodgings, arrange for the distribution of clothing to young men needing such assistance, and in many similar ways befriend and cheer those in need and trouble.

Special effort is made to interest the members themselves in the work, and many of them heartily respond to the invitations to assist individually or as members of the various Committees, deriving much satisfaction and pleasure from participation in this service.

A MEMBER'S APPRECIATION.

The following extract from an address given in the course of "Practical Talks" by Mr. James O. Fagan, one of our members, indicates an appreciation of the Union and its work that will be most gratifying to the good friends whose generosity makes possible the maintenance of such an institution:—

“I almost feel as if I owe an apology to my audience for talking about railroad life or work at the Young Men’s Christian Union. In some way and for over a quarter of a century the Union has been associated in my mind with off-duty relations and activities. I have always come to the Union for the purpose of getting away from the atmosphere of my work, and mixing with associations and people in no way connected with, and but partially interested in, switch towers and the railroad business. And yet I must confess to you that all the time I spent in the Union, when I thought I was above and away from my work, I was in reality emphasizing the importance of that work and surrounding it with intelligent conceptions, and, so far as possible, with an understanding heart. In a number of ways, then, I hold the Union responsible for my life and work on the railroad,—such as it has been and is likely to continue. Not responsible, mind you, for my hobbies, my opinions, or the use I have made of them, but for the nature of the opportunity, the incentive and encouragement to study, the variety of the entertainment, and the heartiness of the welcome that the Union has extended to me personally, and to thousands upon thousands of others in like positions for nearly thirty years. I was building better than I knew.

“I hope you will pardon me, then, for talking about railroad life and work in this unusual fashion, but the way this life and work is brought home to me in relation to the Young Men’s Christian Union is, to my mind, its most interesting feature. If you were to consult back numbers of the library ledger, you would discover that in the course of twenty-five years I have read and taken out of the library to study almost every standard volume of poetry, biography, history, philosophy, and social science. I have passed a great many years in this way in the company of Shakespeare, of Ruskin, of Emerson, of Gibbon, of Macaulay, of Plutarch, of Scott, of Darwin, John Lubbock, and a host of others equally worthy. To the best of my ability, I have studied these men and their ideas, understandingly, and with a purpose. I have desired to know something about the truth and meaning of life whether in regard to labor conditions or social surroundings. And, as a result of this study, I have arrived at certain simple conclusions which, of course, hosts of people have arrived at before me,—namely that to get the best service out of any man, you must insist upon, emphasize, and encourage his freedom of action, the variety of his mental and physical effort, and whatever goes to make up his individuality.”

SPECIAL Without losing sight of its particular work,
WORK. the Union has always been ready to discharge its duty to the community by such general benevolent work as comes within its scope. In this special field the officers and members have been greatly assisted by committees of ladies and gentlemen especially interested. The well-known “Country Week,” “Rides for Invalids,” and the “Christmas Festival” for needy children are among the now regularly established departments of the Union’s more general benevolent work.

The story in detail of the past year’s work will be found in the reports, which follow, of the various Committees having charge of the different departments.

All persons interested in the Union and wishing to aid by contributions, by professional services as teachers, by engaging in its charitable and benevolent work, or in any other way, will confer a favor by communicating with any of the officers or Committees, or proffering their assistance at the Rooms.

This Board holds the title to the Union Building and other real estate, and to it are turned over for investment in a Permanent Fund all special funds and bequests. The Trustees are prompted to suggest to friends of the Union that they can do much to secure its permanent usefulness by contributing to this fund gifts or legacies which shall continue to bear fruit through the years to come, perpetuating their interest and contribution to the work for the uplift and development of young men, which this institution has successfully carried on for so many years.

COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

The Committee records with pleasure a grateful appreciation of the continued financial support of our many interested friends. Record should be made, too, of appreciation and thanks for the generous legacies received during the year.

PERMANENT FUND.

These have been transferred to the Permanent Fund, and will help materially to increase its proportions.

During the year somewhat increased expense has been called for by an increase in salaries of teachers and by the extension and improvement of the educational work. The fitting up of rooms for the newly organized Camera Club and the equipment and maintenance of the Summer Camp, as well as some minor extensions and improvements in the regular work, have also called for extra expense.

For the year to come still further extension of the educational work is felt desirable. More assistance could be given with advantage to the Camera Club, the Business Science Club, the Outing Club, the Summer Camp, as well as to the development of new activities. Rather extended renovation and refurnishing of portions of the building are imperative, and will call for a material increase in the budget for the coming year. To meet this increased expense, the Committee asks for a continued generous response from the old friends, and urges

ANNUAL the members and friends of the CONTRIBUTIONS. Union one and all to join in an effort to develop an interest in the work of the institution that will insure a material increase in the number and amount of the annual contributions for general purposes.

While, of course, the larger contributions and the interest and assistance of business men and firms are earnestly solicited, it is particularly hoped that the salesman, the clerk, the book-keeper, the young man already started on his business career, and who can afford to do so, will contribute to the work for his young comrade who is just starting out, if only in small amounts. And, if, in addition, he can find it possible to join the Union, adding his name to the roll of members as well as to the roll of donors, and giving something of his personal interest and assistance, the Union will be doubly grateful. The service, too, we can assure him, will be not entirely without its reward.

Donations should be sent to Frank L. Locke, President, Boston Young Men's Christian Union, 48 Boylston Street, for which prompt acknowledgment will be made.

The financial statement by the Treasurer, William L. Richardson, is presented herewith.

A CLASS-ROOM.

COMMITTEE ON LECTURES, CLASSES, AND ENTERTAINMENTS.

The work of this department includes providing for the members interesting courses of lectures, instructive evening classes, and a season of enjoyable entertainments, as well as supervision of the various clubs.

Courses of lectures and "Practical Talks," dealing with timely topics, were arranged, and
LECTURES. the large attendance of the members and their friends showed that the selection of the courses and speakers was approved.

The course of Popular Lectures on Medical Subjects, covering particularly points of every-day importance in mental and physical hygiene, was of special value as supplementary to the work of our Physical Department.

Likewise the course of "Practical Talks," this year especially arranged to deal with subjects of particular interest in the every-day scientific and industrial life, in a measure supplemented the work of the Educational Department.

Attention is called to the list of Evening Classes, mainly the same as that of last year, making prominent the more practical branches,
EVENING CLASSES. but also affording opportunities for some of the "accomplishments."

The Union does not undertake to furnish a complete course of study in its Classes, but aims rather to assist those who for various reasons have not had the opportunity to complete their studies and lack the time to take an extended and thorough course of instruction. It does, however, offer a large list of popular studies, and provides an excellent corps of instructors to assist the members and direct the work. Young women are permitted to join in this course of instruction.

Mr. Chauncy C. Batchelor, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has given valued service as a supervisor of our courses, and two other Tech men have been added to our corps of teachers,— Mr. C. C. Ford in Architectural Drawing and Mr. R. Kibbey in Mechanical Drawing.

The only new class organized was one in Typewriting, which Mr. White used to advantage as a supplement to his classes in Shorthand.

We regret to record the retirement of Professor Charles Bickford, after many years of distinguished service during which he made the Union Elocution Class notable in our city, winning popularity as a teacher and the continued personal regard of his many pupils. Mr. Bickford has been succeeded by Mr. I. L. Potter, of the Emerson College of Oratory, whose interest and ability have been well demonstrated.

With the exceptions already noted there have been no changes in our corps of teachers, and no marked ones in the general conduct of the classes. It is our ambition to make this work of progressive value, and we shall hope to see our efforts appreciated by an increasing number of pupils.

An exhibition of the work done in the Drawing Classes was held on the afternoon and evening of May 28, in Class Room No. 3.

LECTURE LESSONS ON BUSINESS. A special course in Business was provided this season in a series of ten "Lecture Lessons" by Mr. Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr., on various topics connected with Trade and Salesmanship. Mr. Fowler had valuable assistance in his work through occasional talks from the following-named gentlemen, whose generous interest was much appreciated: John R. Ainsley, of John R. Ainsley & Co.; Fred L. Howard, of C. A. Browning & Co.; A. B. Beeching, of Little, Brown & Co.; Fred H. Tucker, of Farley, Harvey & Co.; Samuel N. Hubbard, of the North End Union; Robert L. Winkley, of Matthews, Northrop Company, Buffalo; Professor Colin A. Scott, Master Normal School; Charles L. Dunton, Superintendent Barta Press; W. A. Doherty, of Farley, Harvey & Co.

To furnish the members with attractive and proper forms of entertainment is the constant effort of the management. In such a large organization and with so extended a season a varied programme is required.

ENTERTAINMENT. To meet these demands, the course was made up of concerts, dramatic entertainments, illustrated lectures, moving pictures, vaudeville, etc. The entertainment season opens early in November and runs well into May. The season of 1908-09 has met the needs of the members, and furnished them with wholesome and profitable entertainment.

During Anniversary Week in May a special invitation to visit the Rooms and avail themselves of our accommodations was given to strangers visiting the city.

Thanksgiving Day was observed by a special "Open House" programme, with the usual barrel of Baldwin apples in the Reception Room and informal music during the evening.

Inspired by the work of the course of "Lecture Lessons on Business," a group of the young men of this class met in the Parlor on February 17, and organized the Fowler Business Science Club of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union. The following officers were elected: President, H. J. Warren; Vice-President, F. M.

BUSINESS Burroughs; Secretary and Treasurer, C. L.
SCIENCE Babcock. The object of the club, as set CLUB. forth in its by-laws, is "the improvement of its members in and on business lines by means of informal talks, exchange of actual experiences, addresses, lectures, and conferences." The club plans to meet every Friday evening from the third Friday in September to the second Friday in June. It is proposed to alternate meetings at which the members themselves take up and discuss subjects arranged in advance, with meetings at which prominent business men are invited to address the club.

At the first meeting of the club after its organization President Locke and Mr. Fowler were present, and discussed with the members the work and prospects of the club. On March 26 Mr. William U. Swan, of the Boston office of the Associated Press, gave a very interesting talk on the "Work of the Associated Press." On other evenings, exhibitions of salesmanship have been given by members, one taking the part of the salesman, another the part of the buyer, the other members discussing and criticising the methods and details of the work. Papers on Salesmanship and Competition are in preparation by members for presentation at subsequent meetings.

In the spring of 1908 a group of young men interested in amateur photography got together and organized a Camera Club. They elected a President, Stephen E.

CAMERA CLUB. Woodbury, Vice-President, Richard
 Ray, Jr., Treasurer and Secretary,

Wilfred S. White, and adopted a constitution. Monthly meetings have been held, at each of which a talk upon some topic connected with the taking of a picture was the prominent feature.

Attractive rooms have been assigned the club, one flight above The Union Hall, with windows facing north and west, and final arrangements are now being pushed forward towards fitting up the small room adjoining as a series of dark rooms, with modern facilities for developing, etc.

A Walking and Outing Club was formed early in the season, with Charles H. Heavner, President, Edward J. Lang, Vice-President, Philip M. Smith, Secretary.

Interesting excursions were made on Saturday afternoons to Marblehead, Nahant, Blue Hill, Lexington, and Waverley Oaks. Visits were also made in Wellesley to the College and the Hunnewell Gardens. Several pleasant trips were made to the Union Camp at Riverside, the camp being made a sort of rendezvous, and short tramps taken through the neighboring country.

The usual fall reception and season's opening was held on the evening of October 14, and was largely attended.

RECEPTION AND OPENING. President and Mrs. Locke headed the line of the receiving party, composed of members of the Board of Government and their wives. The musical attraction of the evening was the promenade concert by the First Corps Cadets' Orchestra, which rendered a pleasing programme during the informal reception from eight to ten o'clock.

In the Gymnasium, under sparkling electric lights, young men in picturesque costume exhibited their agility and physical training, some in class work and others in individual and special features. There were exhibitions by the Camera Club and by the drawing classes.

CORNER IN CAMERA CLUB ROOM

The teachers engaged for the evening classes were in attendance, and met their prospective pupils in the Library.

Light refreshments were served during the evening by a special committee of ladies. The Committee on Members, specially augmented for the occasion, attended to the more formal reception and entertainment of members and guests.

LIBRARY.

COMMITTEE ON LIBRARY.

As Librarian and Assistant to the President, Richard Ray, Jr., has continued in charge of the administrative details of the Library, and the following report by him shows the general condition of this department during the year:—

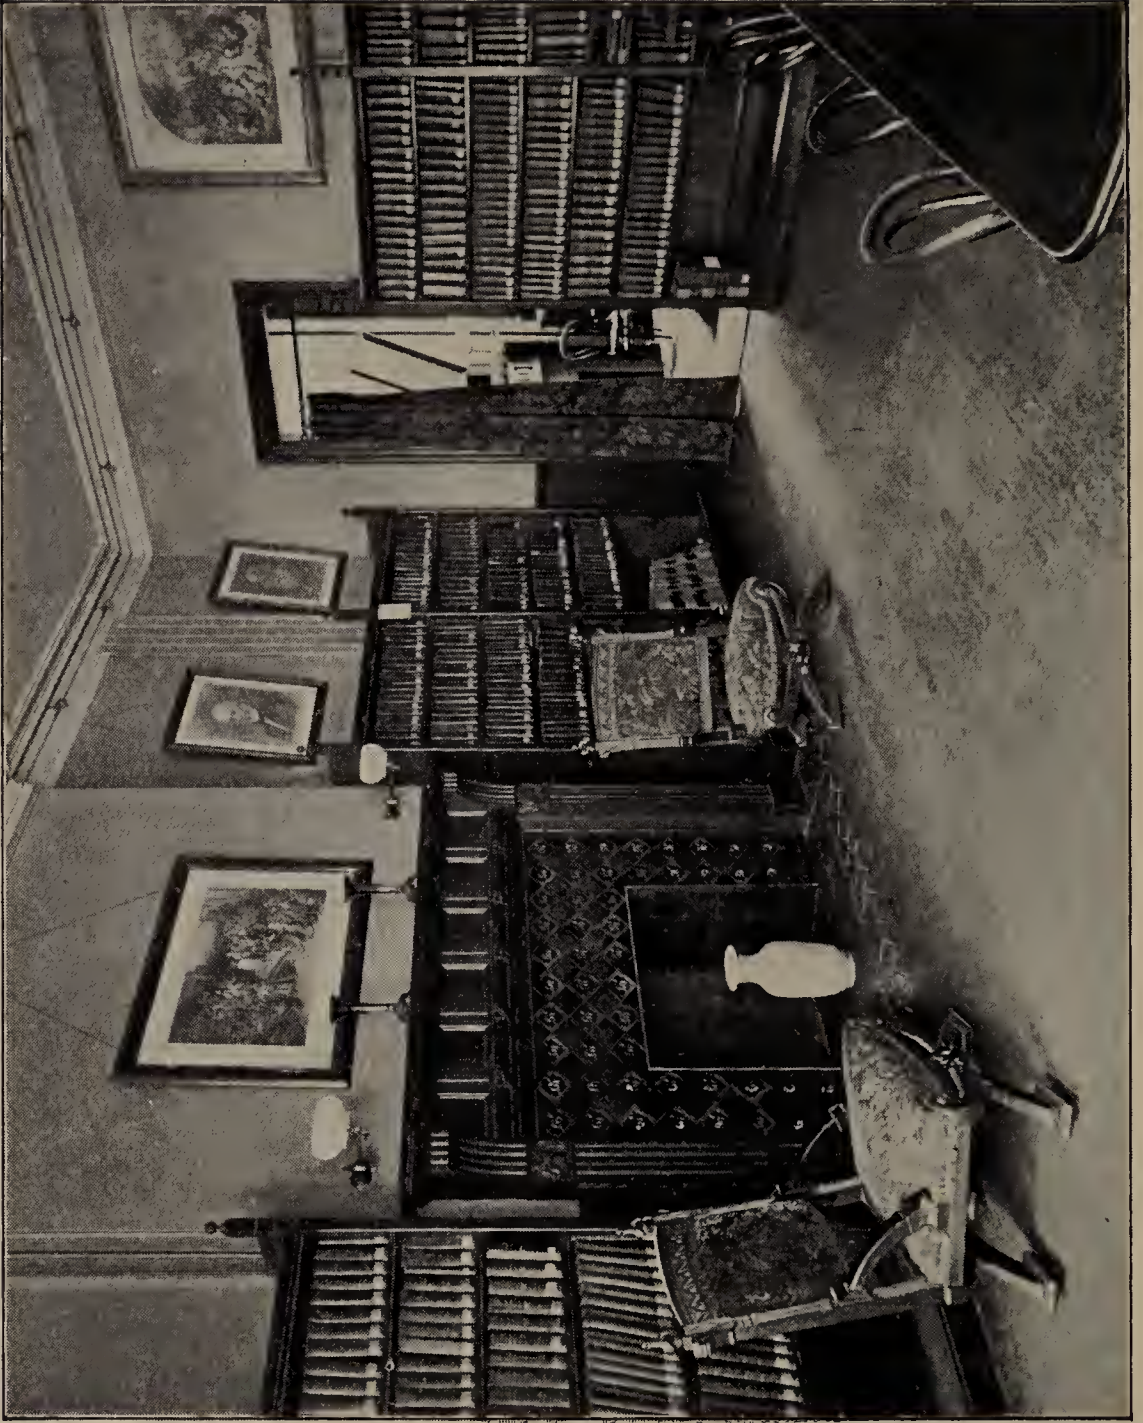

Number of volumes at the beginning of the year (April 1, 1908) . . . . .	18,395

Added by purchase . . . . .	359

Issued for home reading . . . . .	18,761
Charged (April 1, 1909) as out . . . . .	374
Number of volumes in the Study . . . . .	297

The list of periodicals received regularly in the Reading Room has increased during the year by donation and subscription, and embraces twenty-two dailies, sixty-four weeklies, one bi-monthly, fifty-five monthlies, and seven quarterlies, making a total of one hundred and forty-nine.

MAGAZINES FOR HOME READING.

The plan of providing duplicate copies of some of the popular magazines in covers for home reading has been continued, and their constant circulation during the time between their receipt and the receipt of the numbers for the succeeding month gives practical evidence of appreciation.

The circulation of each for the year was as follows: "Century," 304; "Harper's Monthly," 368; "Scribner's," 307; "Outing," 167; "New England," 71; and "Atlantic," 64; a total of 1,281.

Every day during the year from 9 A.M. to 10 P.M. the doors of the Library have been wide open in hospitable welcome to the many young men and others in search of books and reading for wisdom or pleasure.

A glimpse into the Reading Room on a busy evening or a Sunday afternoon shows the worth of this department. Our aim is not only to make the room an attractive place to spend leisure hours, but also a place for earnest study, a place to seek out information and gain inspiration from the thinkers and the great personalities of the world's history.

We wish to bring into close contact with our readers the spirit of intelligent and helpful service and the influence of high ideals. "In the use of books quality counts more than quantity." To quote from a recent report of a public library, "The library should exert a steady attractive influence over reading, and should emphasize the really valuable books. It should have much of the critical faculty of the book reviewer in its selection and recommendation of books, and much of the sympathy and helpful direction of a friend in directing attention to the right lines of reading."

From the early years of the Library the policy of free access to the shelves has been the practice here. "To see and handle the various books, to even superficially delve into these mines of thought and information, opens the way often to that thirst for knowledge which a library is created to satisfy. It creates an atmosphere in which many an unthinking mind may develop and mature. What hidden talents may develop here! What impulse may here be given which will be a lifelong source of happiness!"

As new books were added, they were classified, catalogued, assigned to proper shelves, and lists NEW BOOKS. compiled and posted in the room, and also printed in our weekly publication, "The Union Bulletin."

Suggestions are welcome from any source, and recommendations for books not already in the Library will be given prompt attention and consideration by the Library Committee.

OFFICE.

COMMITTEE ON ROOMS.

To those unfamiliar with the Union and its work a brief description of the building and its various departments may be of interest. The building is situated on

CENTRAL LOCATION. the southerly side of Boylston Street, just east of Tremont Street, adjoining the Hotel Touraine, opposite the Masonic Temple, and overlooking the Common. On Boylston Street it has a frontage of 43 feet, on the sides and rear abutting 104 feet on Tamworth Street, 125 feet on Lowell Court, and 46 feet on Boylston Square, from which direct access is had to Washington Street. The location is a central one, within easy walking distance of both North and South Union Stations and near the Boylston Street entrances of both the Tremont Street Subway and the Washington Street Tunnel, while nearly all the various lines of surface cars either pass the door or near by on Tremont or Washington Street.

Entrance to all departments is through the Reception Room and Office at the head of the first flight of stairs from Boylston Street. This office contains

RECEPTION ROOM AND OFFICE. the desks of the heads of the principal departments, and here the business of the society is transacted, strangers and others desiring information are received, and such attentions are afforded as are in the power of the Union to furnish. Comfortable chairs, reading and writing tables, files of the leading dailies, a telephone, facilities for checking bundles and garments, and similar conveniences are provided.

The rooms are open every day, including Sundays, from eight o'clock A.M. to ten o'clock P.M., and it is estimated that in the more active season (October to May) from 1,600 to 2,200 young men visit the Union Rooms daily.

On the Boylston Street front and connecting with the Reception Room and Office are the rooms for games, where facilities are afforded for chess, checkers, dominoes, bagatelle, pool, and other games. From the rear of the Reception Room and Office, extending into the large L, is the Library and Reading Room. Windows on three sides furnish an abundance of daylight, while well-designed incandescent desk and cornice lamps furnish light for the evening hours. The Library Room has a capacity for from forty thousand to fifty thousand volumes, and, with the exception of the Public Library, is the largest reading-room in Boston, being one hundred and twelve feet long and having five thousand square feet of floor space.

Writing as well as reading tables are furnished, and the Study, opening from the Library, is supplied with books of reference, accessible to members at all times.

At the rear of the Reception Room and Office is the President's Office and Directors' Room, connecting also with the Library, and commanding a view of the entire floor.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE AND DIRECTORS' ROOM.

TOILET ROOM. The Toilet Room, complete with lavatories and baths, is down one flight of stairs from the rear of the Reception Room.

GYMNASIUM. The Gymnasium, another flight below, on the ground floor, with light and air on every side, is 136 feet in length, and covers 6,200 superficial feet, exclusive of dressing-rooms, or, in all, over 10,000 feet. It is the largest gymnasium in the city. Large dressing-rooms are provided, fitted with commodious lockers, both free and private, a slight charge being made for the latter; and adjoining are bath-rooms with shower, sponge, douche, needle, and tub baths, supplied with hot and cold water.

TERMS. Members of the Union by the payment of seven dollars per year are entitled to the use of the Gymnasium at all times when open.

Four dollars per year entitle them to its use after six o'clock P.M.

BICYCLE CHECK-ROOM. A Bicycle Check-Room, with an entrance on Lowell Court, has been opened for the free use of members of the Union and the Gymnasium.

Above the Reception Room and reached by a stairway from that room and also from the main entrance stairway are the parlor, and connecting committee and class-rooms, as well as the EATON HALL. Hall, named for our benefactor, the late Joseph B. Eaton. This hall seats one hundred and twenty-five people, and, if desired, may be connected directly with The Union Hall.

The Parlor is in the front of the building, overlooking the Common. The furnishings are simple and home-like, and include a piano, a number of fine paintings, stereoscopic views and photographs, as well as

PARLOR. the "Waterston Book Collection" of some five hundred volumes, the gift of Rev. Robert C. Waterston, D.D. The room is used especially for the smaller gatherings, for quiet social chats, and not infrequently impromptu and informal musicales are enjoyed here by members and friends.

Over the Library, reached by the main stairway from Boylston Street, and also from the Reception Room through Eaton Hall, is The Union Hall.

THE UNION HALL. The hall is furnished with folding chairs, neatly upholstered in leather, and with the gallery is capable of seating five hundred. It has an emergency exit on Boylston Square. There is a ticket office on the street floor, which may be used in connection with the hall, when desired.

THE STAGE. The stage is thirty-six feet wide and thirty-nine feet deep, with a proscenium twenty-one feet, and is the largest private stage in the city. It is provided with modern and appropriate fire-proof scenery and an asbestos fire curtain.

The Union Hall is admirably adapted for concerts, lectures, and dramatic performances. The hall and stage are fully equipped with electric lights, and connecting with the stage are large and convenient ante-rooms and dressing-rooms, with a separate entrance from Boylston Square.

The hall is used for the larger gatherings, for religious services, lectures, entertainments, and other public purposes of the society, and is also let for similar purposes, when not required by the Union.

Norcross Hall, in the rear of the building, is lighted by windows opening on Boylston Square. It has a large

NORCROSS stage and anteroom, and a seating ca-
HALL. pacity of two hundred and seventy-five.

This hall was named in memory of the late Hon. Otis Norcross, Trustee, Treasurer of the Permanent Fund, and true friend of the Union.

COMMITTEE AND Committee, Class, and Assembly
CLASS ROOMS. Rooms, as well as other smaller rooms, furnish accommodations for the many branches of work undertaken, as occasion requires.

During the year no extraordinary repairs to rooms or building have been necessary, and no radical changes have been made in the use of the various rooms.

The large membership, the constantly changing requirements of the various branches of the work undertaken, together with the opportunity ever present for the undertaking of important new lines of work, keeps before the Committee the necessity for some radical reconstruction of the present building or the erection in the near future of a new one.

No special changes have occurred during the year in the personnel of the administrative staff. Minor changes have been made, otherwise the roll of employees has remained the same as for the past few years, and the Committee has pleasure in recording its appreciation of their continued faithful service.

ADMINISTRATIVE in the desk assistants, janitors, and STAFF. in the employees in the fire-room

There have been received during the year, from the estate of William J. Niles, two oil paintings, which have

COMMITTEE ON MEMBERS.

The story of the development and growth of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union, of its widening influence, and of its ever-increasing power for good, is the story of its members. For the members are the Union, and upon its members, their co-operation, enthusiasm, example, and assistance, the Union depends in a very

WIDENING INFLUENCE. large degree for its success as a helpful benefactor of young men. It is, therefore, important and interesting to know to what extent the Union is being supported in this way by its members and with what enthusiasm and earnestness this work is being done. The Union should grow, should spread out in new directions, should take up a wider sphere of influence; and, as the Union grows, those who assist in that work grow with it and live a larger, more useful, and more beneficent life themselves.

The manner in which the members of the Union have recognized their opportunities in this matter, and have assumed the burden of assisting in the work of the Union, is very gratifying. The sub-committee of members which was formed last year, starting from a small body of earnest young men, has increased until now it numbers nineteen. Some of this Committee are on hand at the Rooms every evening for the purpose of welcoming new-comers, of helping in various ways those who need

INFORMAL RECEPTIONS. assistance, and generally promoting good feeling and fellowship. A very pleasant event in connection with this work is the informal reception and entertainment held by this sub-committee in the parlors of the Union on the third Wednesday of each month. The entertainment is furnished entirely by the members, light refreshments are served, and the evening is passed in a general good time. We urge especially the younger members to come to these gatherings. Those who stay away are missing a good deal.

Here is an illustration of the good which results from our efforts in this line. Letters have been written to

WELCOME TO clergymen in localities outside of Bos-
STRANGERS. ton, asking them to give us the names of any young men who are coming to the city and whom they think would be benefited by joining the Union. With the assistance of the sub-committee of members it has been possible in this way to get acquainted with and to extend a helping hand to several young men to their advantage and ours.

The courtesy, kindness, and tact exercised by this sub-committee of members in handling such matters, and, in fact, the way in which this committee has taken hold of the work and carried it through at some personal inconvenience and sacrifice, deserves the highest praise. The thanks of the Committee on Members, of the Directors, and of the Union, are due to this body of young men who have so generously given their services.

The men who comprise the sub-committee of members are the following:—

RICHARD RAY, Jr., Chairman.

WINFIELD L. NOURSE.

A COUNTRY-WEEK SCENE.

COMMITTEE ON BENEVOLENT ACTION.

An organization like the Christian Union vindicates its existence only by its contribution to the welfare of the community. This we endeavor to promote in various ways, but the more specific work of our Committee is done through "The Country Week," "Rides for Invalids," and "The Christmas Festival."

In each of these enterprises the idea of "charity" is kept in the background, and a more personal and cordial sentiment is developed. Business principles must direct our activities, but they are operated by kindly hearts and hands.

COUNTRY WEEK. "The Country Week" has become so widely known during the thirty-four years of its service to humanity that no restatement of its objects is needed.

During the season of 1908, 2,011 persons, mostly children, enjoyed the fortnight's vacation thus provided, and many more were assisted in other ways to similar privileges.

A special report of this excellent work may be had on application, and here are the names of the good men and women who carry on this undertaking.

COMMITTEE ON "THE COUNTRY WEEK."

Miss LOUISE HOWE.	Mrs. WILLIAM A. L. BAZELEY.
Miss CAROLINE I. FIELD.	Miss MARGARET N. BALDWIN.
Miss MABEL WILBUR.	Miss ALICE F. POOR.
Miss EDITH KENDALL.	Miss MARIAN HARDY DARY.
Mrs. M. P. WHITE.	Miss MARION D. BASSETT.
Miss MARION I. BULLARD.	Miss CLARA M. BULLARD.
WM. HOWELL REED, Jr.	Miss NANNIE ALEXANDER.
	ROBERT A. WOODS.

Miss E. S. JOHNSON, Secretary.

The details of the Committee's work have been, as usual, under the direction of its efficient Secretary, Miss E. S. Johnson, who has also been in charge of the administrative details of the "Rides for Invalids" and "The Christmas Festival."

"Rides for Invalids" has been carried on by the Union for many years, and it is believed to be the only organized effort of this kind in the city.

RIDES FOR INVALIDS.

It has given relief and cheer to many who needed it, and has truly proved a service of love to those who suffer,—a service for which there is a constant and increasing demand.

Co-operating with the organized effort now being made to deal largely and effectively with the health of the community, an imperative need has been met by providing for the invalid poor, when other resources fail, free carriages and car-fare with which they can go to the hospitals and day camps, and obtain such treatment and kind care as their unfortunate condition demands. Physicians, district nurses, and social workers concur as to the value of this service to the community.

The following statistics tell how the money has been spent, but do not record the proceeds of the investment in health and enjoyment.

Persons given carriage rides . . . . .	1,193
Steamboat tickets distributed . . . . .	815
Electric car tickets distributed . . . . .	23,000

"The Christmas Festival" crowded our large hall with children on the afternoon of Saturday, December 26, and they all had a lovely time, apparently. There was the usual attractive stage entertainment, some joyous singing by the little folk, and a liberal collation of cake and ice-cream, served by an amateur but efficient corps of waiters. Every child carried home a package of useful articles, carefully chosen for individual needs, and almost every child said, "Thank you."

The following list gives the names of the men and women who did the work:—

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU. The Employment Bureau, under the management of Mr. H. C. Bronsdon, makes the following statement of the year's work:—

Applications for employment . . . . .	468
Applications for employees . . . . .	194
Sent to places . . . . .	232
Places filled . . . . .	166

This service has been rendered without charge to either side, and has been much appreciated.

Mr. Bronsdon has also supervised the receipt and distribution of clothing, by which the needs of many a poor fellow have been supplied, and Mr. Dalton has had charge of our Board and Lodging Registers, which have proved of service to many.

At the time of the Chelsea fire in April last the Union promptly offered through Mayor Hibbard such services as it might be able to render the sufferers. Members and their friends were invited to contribute clothing, which was received at the Rooms and promptly forwarded to the proper committees for distribution. A number of our members assisted in the relief work by voluntary service with different committees in Boston and in Chelsea, and President Locke, for a number of weeks, gave much of his time and service as a member of the Boston Committee on Relief and Housing.

We cannot too strongly express our constant appreciation of the interest shown by the public in our work, and we are especially grateful to those whose generosity made the work possible.

Determined still to merit the public confidence and support, we look forward to another year of active service, with wider opportunities, and, it is hoped, richer results.

COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC WORSHIP AND RELIGIOUS STUDY.

While the general aim of the work of the Union is to provide wholesome instruction, entertainment, and recreation, this Committee devotes its energies to moral and religious culture, to the development of the character of the young men.

SEATS IN CHURCHES. The importance of a connection with some church is urged upon members, and aid is given in obtaining seats in the particular churches which they desire to attend.

The course of Sunday evening addresses on "Character and Citizenship," so successfully inaugurated in January of last year, was continued until May 31, when the Sunday services were discontinued for the summer. On resuming the work in the fall, it was deemed wise to substitute for the customary Sunday evening meetings, afternoon meetings for young men only. The

EVERY-DAY PROBLEMS. course was announced as "Every-day Problems," "Meetings for the Mutual Consideration of Problems that face us."

The meetings have been entirely informal, in accordance with the announcement, "speakers and young men meeting on common ground without any of the formalities and restrictions to which the lecture hall and church are necessarily subject." The various topics selected have been presented by some special speaker in a short talk, followed by a general discussion and questioning by the young men.

The course has proved most interesting and instructive. Informal musical programmes have preceded the talks, and following the discussion a social half-hour has been enjoyed in the Parlor and rooms adjoining. Coffee and crackers have been served informally, and the young men have gathered in small groups, continuing the discussion of the topic of the day or otherwise enjoying themselves. In conducting the meetings, the Committee has had the assistance of Mr. Herman Peters, of the Harvard Divinity School. The musical programmes have been in charge of Mr. L. B. Canterbury. During the latter part of the season the excellent work of the Union Male Quartette—L. B. Canterbury, first tenor; William P. Plummer, second tenor; Stephen F. Pratt, first bass; Thomas J. Fitzgerald, second bass,—has added materially to the interest. The meetings were held at first in Eaton Hall; but, as the number attending increased, it became necessary to move into The Union Hall.

From these afternoon meetings a few of the young men formed a special class for the study of some phase of the social or economic questions of the day.

SPECIAL CLASS. They decided on the Christian aspect of the social question, and used as an approach to the problem the book "Jesus Christ and the Social Question," by Professor Francis G. Peabody.

Mr. Peters, in addition to his work with the regular afternoon meetings, has led the work of this smaller class, outlining the topics and guiding the discussions. It was decided to keep the class within a limited number. Thus far it has not exceeded a dozen. The loyalty of its members has made the class a success, and their interest shows that such classes are possible and practical. Such attempts as this at finding the truth in the present social perplexity give hope for the future.

They lead us to believe that in some way our social question may be solved on a sound basis.

SPECIAL SERVICES. Sunday evening Services, more especially religious in character, have been held on special occasions.

The Committee and, indeed, the young men of the Union are deeply indebted to the good friends, clergymen and laymen of the community, who have so generously responded to our invitation to assist in the various meetings and discussions. It is with pleasure that record is made of a hearty appreciation of this interest and service.

The usual invitation was extended to clergymen of different denominations who were to be in Boston and vicinity during the summer vacation season to leave their addresses with the President. This list is available for use, not only by members, but also by the public in general, and has proved of no little convenience to persons desiring the services of a clergyman during the summer.

A list follows of the speakers and topics for both Sunday afternoon and evening meetings.

THE GYMNASIUM.

COMMITTEE ON PHYSICAL CULTURE.

The Committee on Physical Culture takes pleasure in recording another prosperous year in this department. The wide-spread interest in athletic exercise and sports

GYMNASIUM. of all kinds is nowhere more noticeable than in the Gymnasium, now regarded as one of the indispensable features of modern institutions of this character.

On April 1, 1909, there were 1,087 members in the Union Gymnasium, which to-day is the largest in Boston. The extensive floor area permits a large number of persons to exercise at the same time without overcrowding, besides affording ample accommodation for the special classes on the various apparatus.

The unflagging enthusiasm which our members take in the Gymnasium and its work is shown not only by their practical suggestions to the Committee, but also by their inquiries for such thoroughly admirable features as a swimming-pool, bowling-alleys, drying-rooms, etc. Much as these additions are desired by the Committee, they must be deferred until the enlargement of our building—an urgent necessity—will admit of their being adopted.

The Classes, one of the most popular attractions to all gymnasium members, especially appeal to beginners,

CLASS WORK. as the exercises are easy and simple, and yet of great value in building up the body. Business and professional men, whose time is limited, find them of great benefit, and avail themselves of this opportunity to improve their physical condition at a minimum of time expended.

The classes are divided into the following: free movement, dumb bell, Indian club, high bars, parallel bars, German horse, vaulting, tumbling, boxing, wrestling. The instructors and leaders are Mr. German F. Hoffman, Superintendent; Mr. Everett F. Parks, Assistant Superintendent; and Messrs. Lewis D. Whiting, B. J. Weston, A. H. Ross, Thomas L. Owens, and E. H. Donohoe.

MUSIC. Music for the class work has been in charge of our pianist, Mr. Louis F. Korb, whose familiarity with the special requirements of this position has contributed in no small measure to the attractiveness of these drills.

HAND-BALL COURT. The white marble Hand-ball Court has been in constant use throughout the entire year; and the exhilarating exercise which the game affords, together with the required skill and the friendly competition, have been of great physical and mental benefit to large numbers of young men.

Among the important adjuncts of all gymnasiums are the bathing facilities. The Bath-rooms, both general and private, are models of construction and cleanliness, being under constant supervision by a special attendant. They are thoroughly equipped with the latest appliances which make hot and cold water bathing delightful and invigorating.

The dressing-rooms now contain a total of 1,324 ventilated lockers; and four private dressing-rooms, provided with extra large lockers, meet the special needs of many of our patrons.

One public exhibition was given on March 19 on the stage of The Union Hall, the programme consisting of many novel and attractive features, EXHIBITION. which gave practical illustration of the advancement and proficiency of the members, and greatly entertained the large audience present.

Our Superintendent, Mr. Hoffman, and his assistant Mr. Parks, have both largely contributed to the effectiveness and popularity of the class work and the general gymnasium work; and they have also given personal care and instruction to such individual members as sought their counsel.

The massage treatment remains in care of our expert masseur, Mr. Edwin F. Harding, and his services have been extensively employed by those who recognize the great benefit of this scientific treatment. MASSAGE. An electric vibratory massage machine has been recently added to our equipment, and we hope that its peculiarly novel properties of invigoration will be of material benefit to those who use it.

GROUP OF WRESTLERS.

Special attention is called to the opportunity extended to all gymnasium members for a free physical examination by our Medical Director, Dr. William R. Woodbury. The Medical Director's office is supplied with a complete outfit of the most approved appliances for the PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS. testing and measuring of those who take physical examinations, these examinations being also in accordance with the Civil Service rules and methods. Many of our members avail themselves of this opportunity, together with the suggestions of the Medical Director as to proper exercise, taking advantage also of re-examination at the end of the term to ascertain exactly what progress has been made.

The full report of the Medical Director will be found on page 79.

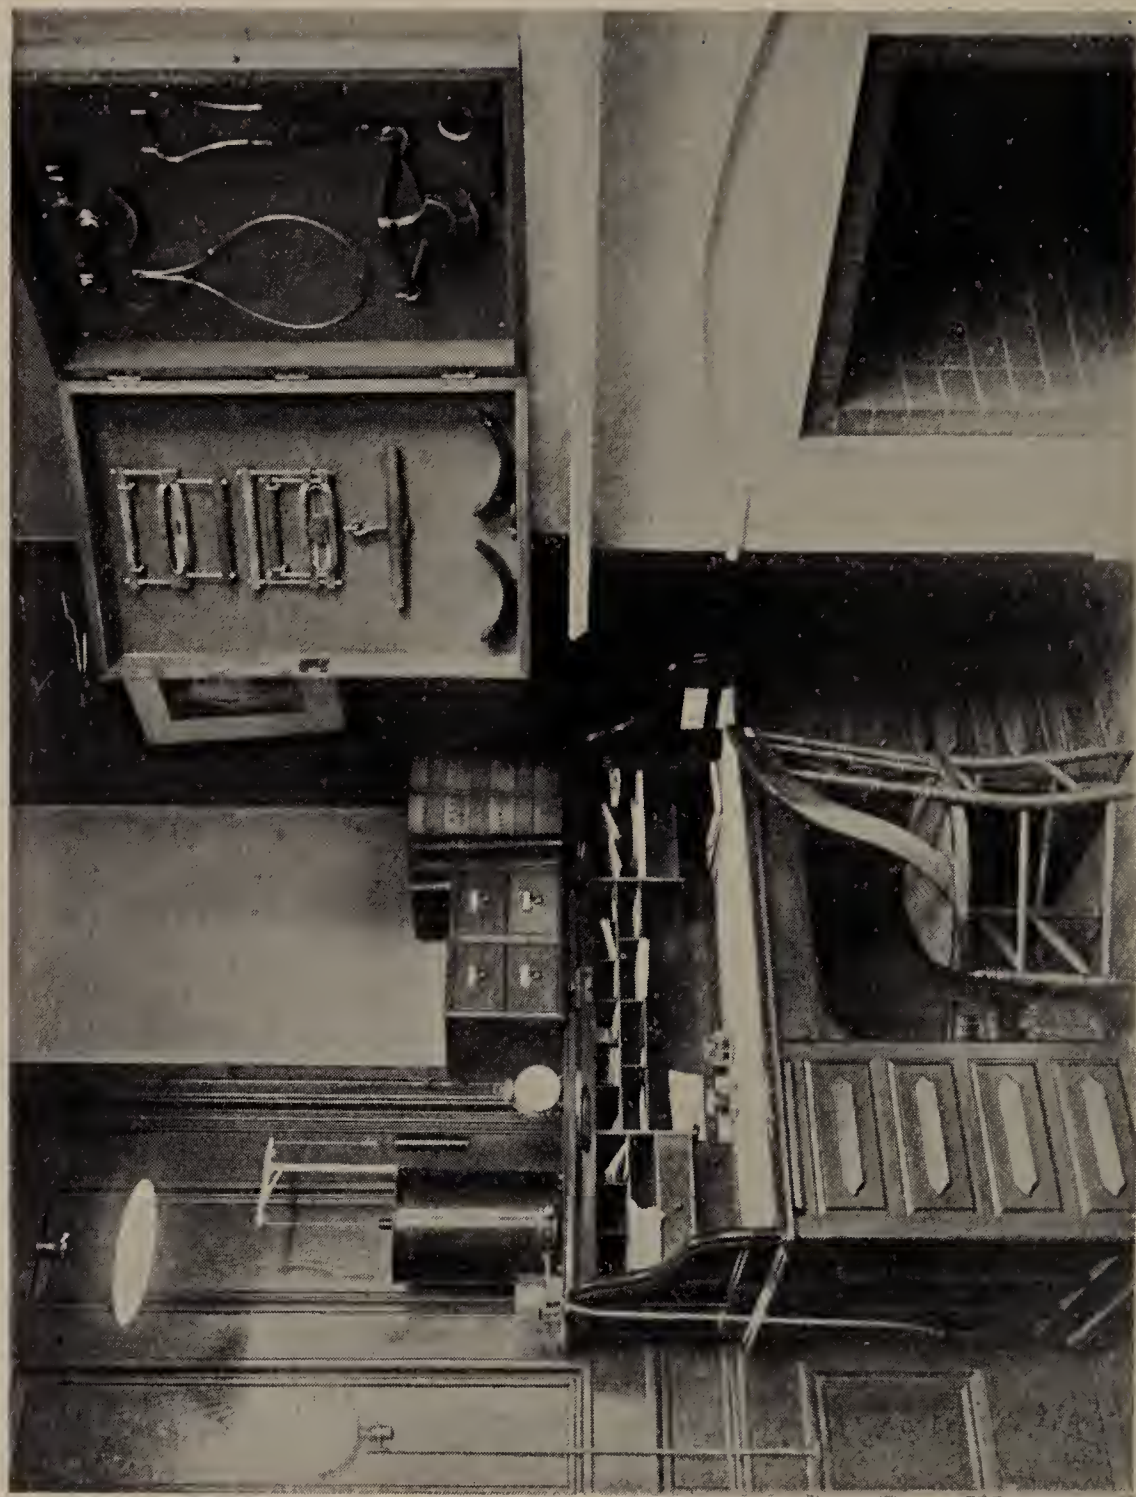

Through the courtesy of Mr. Charles W. Hubbard we were able to provide at Pine Grove Station, near Riverside, a very attractive summer camp for those in-

SUMMER CAMP. terested in outdoor life. Mr. Ernest Marchant was engaged to take charge. Comfortable sleeping quarters were provided, as well as ample facilities for the preparation of meals. The camp was situated in a pleasant grove on the bank of the Charles River, and convenient facilities were afforded for bathing, boating, and canoeing. A number of the members made use of the camp for a vacation week, while others made use of it for an occasional night's stay or for a week-end outing.

MEDICAL DIRECTOR'S OFFICE.

REPORT OF DR. WILLIAM R. WOODBURY, Medical Director.

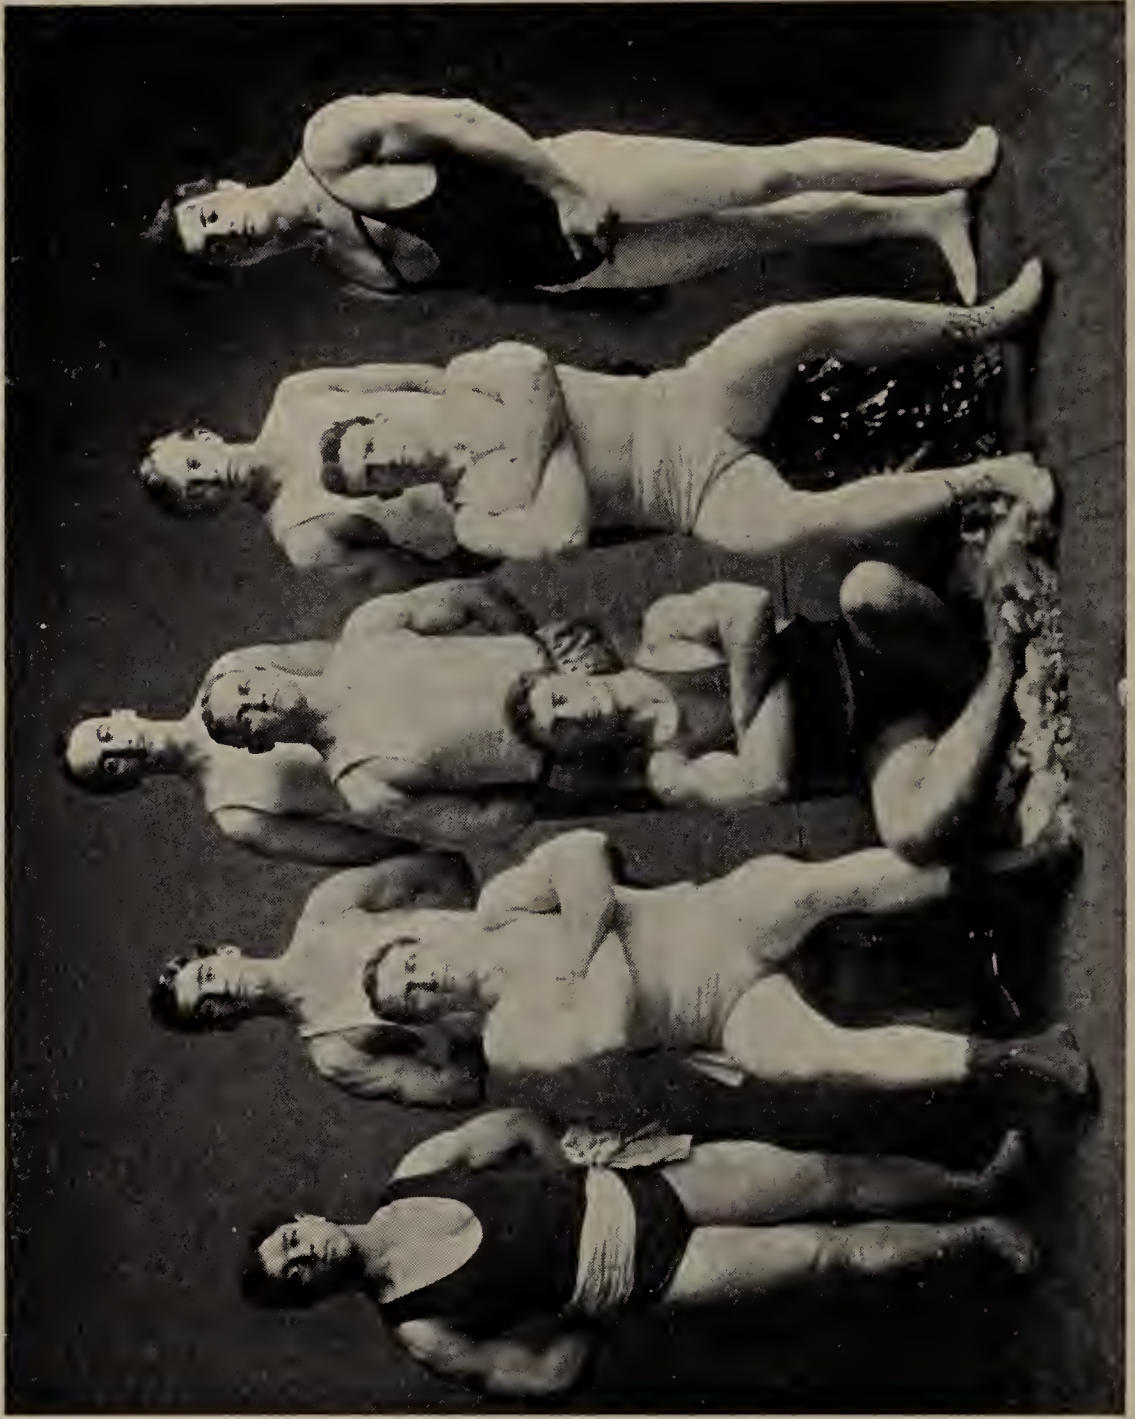

Clean and simple living and regular recreation and bodily exercise are the most effective means of avoiding sickness and incapacity. These means are not difficult to practise. Efficient and useful living depends upon them. In modern city life during the indoor months men need physical recreation. This privilege can be found at the Union Gymnasium, where every opportunity is offered for growing into and maintaining the highest physical and mental efficiency.

Each year before starting in on the gymnasium work and play, the Union Gymnasium member can have a thorough physical examination, and he should have it. With the examination is given advice as to the particular needs of the individual, and how best to meet those needs. Every member who meets the Medical Director receives a card which shows his physical condition and a prescription card by which to direct his gymnasium work. And he is encouraged to combine with his exercises a condition of mind which will bring to him enjoyment and recreation.

While he is in his gymnasium clothes, he should lay aside all his cares and anxieties, and thus receive the fullest benefit of the three hours a week he takes for himself. A man cannot give every minute of every day to crowding, wearing business cares and demands without sacrificing his health, his usefulness, and his efficiency.

There is no better way to practise economy at any time in a man's life than to spend his three hours every week of the indoor months in wholesome recreative gymnasium play. It takes far less of his time and money than does "going-to-pieces" at a time when his family or his business needs him. Besides, it gets him larger results and augments his happiness. Life means more to him.

The course of "Popular Lectures on Medical Subjects" (conducted this season) is the newest feature in the plan of the Boston Young Men's Christian Union for extending to young men and their friends help in leading efficient lives. These lectures include most of the needs demanded for maintaining good health.

The large number of men who come to the Union Gymnasium evenings to qualify themselves for the civil service examinations find the opportunity they are seeking; and the training they receive under the care of the Instructors and the Medical Director bring large results.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM R. WOODBURY, M.D.

EARLY HISTORY.

The Boston Young Men's Christian Union was instituted in 1851, and incorporated under its present name in 1852.

Its work was temporarily interrupted by the Civil War, but in April, 1868, a complete reorganization was effected; rooms were secured at 12 West Street, and active work

1868. resumed. The rooms soon proved too small for the purposes of the society, and larger ones were taken in the fall at what was then 300 Washington Street, corner of Suffolk Place, where the whole building above the first floor was eventually occupied. These premises also proving inadequate, it became necessary to move again. In the spring of 1874, a suitable lot of land having been found, a public appeal was made for funds with which to purchase the land and erect a new building. By the generosity of friends the necessary amount with which to begin the work was speedily secured.

The present building was completed and dedicated March 15, 1876. By the munificent legacy of eighty 1876. thousand dollars from the late Joseph B. Eaton, a Life Member, supplemented by other generous gifts, the society was enabled in 1879 (December 10) to hold its building free from all indebtedness. In 1882, on account of constantly growing needs, enlargement of the building was deemed necessary.

1883. Numerous friends promptly responded to an appeal; and an addition to the building was completed, and dedicated May 28, 1883.
